All DFSI programs are customized and tailored to client specifications in order to maximize the effectiveness for unique professional sport anti-doping programs.

DFSI operates in three primary service areas:

1. Program Policy Review, Development & Consulting
2. Education Services
3. Drug-Testing Panels & Collections Services

Program Policy Review, Development & Consulting

DFSI offers clients the unique service of program policy development and consulting, free of charge on a bi-annual basis. After initial review, DFSI will provide brief recommendations for improvement, if needed.

DFSI and the institution may determine that a more thorough review process with detailed recommendations for improvement are necessary. In this case, the institution has the option of utilizing DFSI's expertise with this process through our policy consulting services. Contact DFSI for pricing.

Drug-Testing Panels & Collections Services

Drug-Testing Panels

In collaboration with our lab partners, DFSI created panels for substances of abuse (urine and oral fluid testing) and performance-enhancing substances (urine testing only), designed to target substances specific to sport at very sensitive detection levels. Panels can be customized to clients needs.

Collection Services

DFSI offers clients two options for collection services.

1. Onsite Collections:

DFSI trains and certifies a network of collection personnel to provide onsite specimen collections consistent with the best practices utilized at the sport level.

2. Self Collections:

DFSI recommends using our network of trained collection personnel to ensure compliance with protocols and to avoid any conflict of interest. However, a client may wish to collect samples without utilizing DFSI's network for various reasons. For those clients, DFSI offers comprehensive online specimen collection training to facilitate proper in-house specimen collections.
